

Name _____

Date _____

Class Period _____

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
Extremely Hot	Irrigation to farm	Mountains and Basins
grasslands	Shipping	Great Plains
Coastline	Lumber and timber industry
Bays and Gulf	Petrochemical industry	North Central Plains
Mountains	ranching cattle
Rough Terrain	low population	Coastal Plains
Beaches	Large Population
Lots of rainfall	Farm cotton minimal rainfall	mining
Cedar, Pecan and oak trees	Maquilladoras
Oil and Gas	ranch cattle, sheep and goats
major cities	Shrimp, crab and fish
flat land	Hurricanes
sulphur, talc, salt, limestone	Tourism
Border Mexico
Piney Woods
short grasses

- Matching a word or phrase from each column you must construct a sentence to explain the Big Idea of "Where I live affects how I live". You must underline/highlight the word or phrase you have chosen. You must also indicate the type of factor in your sentence (Economic, Social, Political, or Environmental).
- Sample Sentence: The shipping of goods or products to foreign countries is an economic opportunity prevalent in the coastal plains region due, in part, to the expansive coastline along the Gulf of Mexico.
- You may use the information from each column more than once (flat land is readily present in all four regions, which would allow for farming in all four regions).
- Use each item from each column at least once and place a check mark next to it when it is used. If you use an item more than once, place another check mark next to it each time it is used.